

Team Discussion Board

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `psy-2013.wiki.educ.msu.edu/CT-1`. The page header includes the Michigan State University logo and navigation links like 'Wiki Home', 'Recent Changes', and 'Pages and Files'. The main content area is titled 'CT-1' and features a discussion board section. The discussion board has a title 'Team 1:' and a question: 'What is reported to be the most helpful recovery process for survivors and their families?'. Below the question, there are sections for 'Team Members:', 'Team "Bright Spot:"', and 'Team Reports:'. The 'Team Reports:' section lists dates: 7/18, 8/1, and 8/15. A black arrow points from the text 'Team Discussion Board' to the discussion board area.

Start a new discussion thread...

This screenshot shows the same 'CT-1' discussion board page, but with the 'New Post' button highlighted. The 'New Post' button is located at the top left of the discussion board area, next to a 'Subject' input field and a 'Search' button. Below the 'New Post' button, there is a table with columns for 'Subject', 'Author', 'Replies', 'Views', 'Last Message By', and 'Last Message'. The table is currently empty, with the text 'No messages found.' displayed below it. A black arrow points from the text 'Start a new discussion thread...' to the 'New Post' button.

Or respond to an existing post...

This screenshot shows a wiki page titled "CONTACT-1" on the "COLLEGE OF EDUCATION MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY" site. A green notification bar at the top states "Your message has been posted." Below the header, there is a "New Post" button and a search bar. A table lists message posts with columns for Subject, Author, Replies, Views, Last Message By, and Last Message. One post is visible with the subject "contact with our Bright Spot", author "hjohnson", 0 replies, 0 views, and a last message by "hjohnson" at "just now". A sidebar on the left contains navigation links like "Wiki Home", "Recent Changes", and "Pages and Files".

This screenshot shows the same wiki page, but with a reply box open for the "contact with our Bright Spot" post. The post content is "Example message post". The reply box contains the text "Reply" and a "Post" button. Below the reply box is a link that says "Return to Discussion". The browser address bar shows the URL "psy-2013.wiki.educ.msu.edu/share/view/63077414".
